

e-concepts ... Time + Chance =

A Weekly Publication of Relational Concepts Inc.

By Dr. David DeWitt

In the evolution religion, TIME + CHANCE = ANYTHING YOU WANT IT TO

Nobel prize-winning scientist George Wald once wrote:

However improbable we regard this event [evolution], or any of the steps it involves, given enough time, it will almost certainly happen at least once. ...Time is the hero of the plot... Given so much time, the impossible becomes possible, the possible becomes probable, the probable becomes virtually certain. One only has to wait; time itself performs miracles. [G.Wald, "The Origin of Life," Scientific American 191 (August 1954)]

This is an irrational, blind faith, religious statement about a miracle performed by a savior called "time." How could any sane person come to such a conclusion? Is it not insanity to expect that doing the same thing repeatedly will yield different results? If something is statistically, and realistically, impossible one time, it does not become more possible, or realistic, the next time, or any succeeding time.

Some time ago, I was talking to an atheist who said that monkeys banging on keyboards would eventually produce the encyclopedia because that is one of all the possibilities. With faith like that, who needs reality? Understand, if the monkeys would not make the encyclopedia the first day, then they will not make it the second day, or the third day or all three days put together. The same is true for every one of the days in 13.8 billion years of the supposed evolution of life on earth. No matter how many times you repeat the impossible, it is still impossible. Repetition over time does not make the impossible into something possible. Only a religion of insanity would believe this.

By faith we understand that the worlds were prepared by the word of God, so that what is seen was not made out of things which are visible (Hebrews 11:3).

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things came into being through Him, and apart from Him nothing came into being that has come into being. (John 1:1-3)

For more information see study book Evolution on Relational Concepts web page:
<https://relationalconcepts.org/>

P.O. Box 141456 • Grand Rapids, MI 49514 • relationalconcepts.org